

MEDICAL BRIGADE

The doctors and nurses that make up Borderless Brigade's Medical Brigade work alongside indigenous national health care professionals to provide basic medical examinations and prescribe medicines to treat many common medical conditions.

Many of the things we take for granted, such as over the counter medications, vitamins and prescription drugs are out of the financial reach of many of the people living in the villages and communities visited by Borderless Brigade. Grateful mothers with children in tow walk hours and wait in long lines to receive, free of charge, the help offered by our medical team.

Sometimes a person is presented to our Medical Brigade with a medical condition that requires more treatment options than can be provided in our temporary medical clinic. These conditions include birth defects such as cleft palate, clubfoot, or umbilical hernias. Borderless Brigade participates with private hospitals and national health facilities in those developing countries to arrange for surgeries or extended medical treatments to meet many of those needs at no cost to the patient.

MEDICAL BRIGADE

The doctors and nurses that make up Borderless Brigade's Medical Brigade work alongside indigenous national health care professionals to provide basic medical examinations and prescribe medicines to treat many common medical conditions.

Many of the things we take for granted, such as over the counter medications, vitamins and prescription drugs are out of the financial reach of many of the people living in the villages and communities visited by Borderless Brigade. Grateful mothers with children in tow walk hours and wait in long lines to receive, free of charge, the help offered by our medical team.

Sometimes a person is presented to our Medical Brigade with a medical condition that requires more treatment options than can be provided in our temporary medical clinic. These conditions include birth defects such as cleft palate, clubfoot, or umbilical hernias. Borderless Brigade participates with private hospitals and national health facilities in those developing countries to arrange for surgeries or extended medical treatments to meet many of those needs at no cost to the patient.

MEDICAL BRIGADE

The doctors and nurses that make up Borderless Brigade's Medical Brigade work alongside indigenous national health care professionals to provide basic medical examinations and prescribe medicines to treat many common medical conditions.

Many of the things we take for granted, such as over the counter medications, vitamins and prescription drugs are out of the financial reach of many of the people living in the villages and communities visited by Borderless Brigade. Grateful mothers with children in tow walk hours and wait in long lines to receive, free of charge, the help offered by our medical team.

Sometimes a person is presented to our Medical Brigade with a medical condition that requires more treatment options than can be provided in our temporary medical clinic. These conditions include birth defects such as cleft palate, clubfoot, or umbilical hernias. Borderless Brigade participates with private hospitals and national health facilities in those developing countries to arrange for surgeries or extended medical treatments to meet many of those needs at no cost to the patient.

Our Medical Brigade needs your help in order to continue meeting the medical needs of the individuals living in the impoverished communities we visit.

A typical international trip for our Medical Brigade is made up of about nine medical personnel. The average total budget for each international Medical Brigade is $10,100. This amount does not include international travel expense, we ask each of our participants to pay their own travel cost. This budget is made of these expenses:

- $2,000 for medical supplies
- $750 for translators
- $7,000 for in-country expenses such as transportation, meals, lodging & security.
- $350 to pay a doctor licensed to practice in the country of our visit.

You can help by donating supplies from a list found on our website or by donating funds to help offset this budget.

Please allow us to be your emissary as together we equip, embrace and enhance lives.

Please visit our website for other ways you can help

www.borderlessbrigade.org

Or call us at 901-786-8485

Our Medical Brigade needs your help in order to continue meeting the medical needs of the individuals living in the impoverished communities we visit.

A typical international trip for our Medical Brigade is made up of about nine medical personnel. The average total budget for each international Medical Brigade is $10,100. This amount does not include international travel expense, we ask each of our participants to pay their own travel cost. This budget is made of these expenses:

- $2,000 for medical supplies
- $750 for translators
- $7,000 for in-country expenses such as transportation, meals, lodging & security.
- $350 to pay a doctor licensed to practice in the country of our visit.

You can help by donating supplies from a list found on our website or by donating funds to help offset this budget.

Please allow us to be your emissary as together we equip, embrace and enhance lives.

Please visit our website for other ways you can help

www.borderlessbrigade.org

Or call us at 901-786-8485

Our Medical Brigade needs your help in order to continue meeting the medical needs of the individuals living in the impoverished communities we visit.

A typical international trip for our Medical Brigade is made up of about nine medical personnel. The average total budget for each international Medical Brigade is $10,100. This amount does not include international travel expense, we ask each of our participants to pay their own travel cost. This budget is made of these expenses:

- $2,000 for medical supplies
- $750 for translators
- $7,000 for in-country expenses such as transportation, meals, lodging & security.
- $350 to pay a doctor licensed to practice in the country of our visit.

You can help by donating supplies from a list found on our website or by donating funds to help offset this budget.

Please allow us to be your emissary as together we equip, embrace and enhance lives.

Please visit our website for other ways you can help

www.borderlessbrigade.org

Or call us at 901-786-8485